You are cordially invited to join us at the second annual "Horse Lover's Field Day" on March 29, 2008, co-sponsored by the Banks County UGA Extension Service as a benefit for the Banks County 4H Horsemanship Club. This major equine event will be open to the public and will be held at Grove River Ranch, LLC located in northeast Georgia between Commerce and Gainesville. As you can see from the attached flier, there will be several great demonstrations of horses of different talents and breeds, and some hot topic educational classes to help all horse owners or prospective horse owners learn how to better manage their farm and horses. The "Horse Lover's Field Day" will be advertised and promoted in Banks and surrounding counties, so we anticipate a large number of spectators. Last year there were spectators from three states and seventeen Georgia counties in attendance.

You have the opportunity to participate as a vendor at the field day, sell and promote your products or services. All vendors must be registered, and the fee is only $25 if paid by March 19, 2008. A vendor/exhibitor registration form is attached. There is no charge for informational exhibitors such as saddle clubs, equine associations, and non-profit organizations. Please bring your own table and a canopy if you need one. Electric hookups are not available for outside vendors. The arrival of demonstrators, speakers, and spectators will make Saturday morning very hectic, so vendors and exhibitors are requested to set up on Friday from 12:00 noon to 7:00 pm or Saturday from 7:00 to 8:00 am. Space and locations are on a first-come first-serve basis. Driving directions to and photos of the facility and layout can be viewed on the web site www.GroveRiverRanch.com, or call me at the number above.

All registered vendors and exhibitors will receive one free admission pass. Additional admission tickets (for door prizes) and raffle tickets may be purchased at the gate on Saturday morning. The admission fee is $5 per individual or $10 per vehicle.

If you would like to promote your business by donating a service or product to be given away as a door prize, or to contribute to one of the horse care kit raffle prizes, please contact Kelly Humphries at 770-654-0544.

Your support of our 4H Horsemanship program will be greatly appreciated.
